I. POLICY STATEMENT

The Auburn University Faculty Handbook acknowledges the central importance of teaching and the use of teaching materials to the facilitation of successful student learning. The Learning Management System (“LMS”) is a key feature of Auburn’s instructional technology landscape and enables Auburn University’s faculty, staff, and students to engage in transformative teaching and learning in and beyond the traditional classroom setting.

This policy governs the use of the LMS at Auburn University that enables the proper administrative management and oversight of the LMS. To assist the University in maintaining compliance with applicable policy, procedures, and law, this policy addresses important considerations in the use of the LMS at the University.

AU Employees are eligible, with proper approval, to build and maintain courses both for credit and noncredit in the LMS for users with ERP/SIS (Banner) records. All faculty, students, and staff at Auburn University will have access to appropriate LMS courses, regardless of whether they are credit or noncredit, academic or training in nature according to the access section of the LMS Guidelines document. Individual access will be limited according to the guidelines and other applicable policies of Auburn University.
