

Policy on Research Involving Humans

Auburn University established the Institutional Review Board for the Use of Human Subjects in Research \(IRB\) to evaluate research for compliance with the guidelines and policies of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the Public Health Service, the Food and Drug Administration and other federal, state and local regulations. All research using human subjects – whether faculty, staff or students conduct it – must be approved in advance by the IRB, regardless of the source of funding, lack of funding or any other consideration. Research involving human subjects not approved in advance may be disallowed and may incur severe penalties for non-compliance with institutional policy.
